Comfortable and stylish administrative furniture transformation for AECC University College Bournemouth.

Since 1965, AECC has been one of the leaders in musculoskeletal health and wellbeing with expertise that spans areas in chiropractic, physiotherapy; psychology; sports, exercise, health science; radiology, and imaging sciences.

Following a successful tender process, Combined Office Interiors were delighted to be involved in the transformation of various administrative offices within the university building at Parkwood Campus in Bournemouth.

As part of the evaluation, we provided furniture samples and demonstrations to show the strength and durability of the products. With the complete refurbishment including desking and associated seating, visitor chairs and storage.

Time restraints are always a difficult challenge when completing any installation, however, our team prides itself on meeting these challenges head-on. In this particular instance, we worked with the university who needed the installation completed with minimal disruption to their staff and students. We liaised closely with the AECC to establish a delivery and installation schedule that would meet their needs and set us up to achieve the deadline effectively. The installation was completed successfully in one day and we are proud to say it was snag free!

The university was thrilled with the results and we were able to exceed their expectations.
